TAMPICO MAY FALL BY NIGHT

Gen. Gonzales to Order Final Assault by Night; Expecting Victory

VILLA READY FOR FINAL ATTACK ON SALTILLO

Rebel Commanders Reporting Victories Already Won in Mexican Strongholds

JUAREZ, May 13.—That General Gonzales, commanding the rebels before Tampico, expected to order a final assault on the city before night, was stated in a telegram to the Constitutionalists headquarters here today. The telegram added that Gen. Gonzales invited General Zaragoza, commanding the federals, to draw his troops outside of the city for the battle in order to protect non-combatants, but Zaragoza failed to reply. Many foreigners and Mexicans have taken refuge with the foreign ships in the harbor. The dispatch said that heavy losses on both sides had been sustained during the preliminary fighting of the last few days.

Commenting on Admiral Mayo's report, Consul General Payne from Tuxpam, who visited the State Department, told Secretary Bryan that if the rebels take Tuxpam by Saturday, he counseled Secretary Bryan not to allow any American vessels on the Panuco or Tuxpam rivers. Conditions at Tuxpam, he said, are fairly satisfactory.

Tampico's Fall Imminent
WASHINGTON, May 13.—Supplementing a report sent earlier in the day Admiral Mayo this afternoon sent a wireless message to the Navy Department that the fall of Tampico is imminent. He said heavy firing had continued since midnight after a lull beginning at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He said: "The rebels expect to capture the city before night and the general impression seems to be that their expectation will be realized."

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—General Villa is practically ready for a final attack on Saltillo with twenty thousand men according to the Constitutionalist consul, Adolph Carrillo, here. Carrillo said he had received a message from Villa stating: "Within a few hours Saltillo will be ours, once I begin the assault." Carrillo predicted the city would fall easily despite the fifty thousand residents and federal soldiers there.

REBEL VICTORIES ARE REPORTED BY COMMANDERS

SAN DIEGO, May 13.—Important Constitutional victories were reported today by rebel commanders. Gen. Gonzales reported that his men had taken Arzameña and a quantity of ammunition in the state of San Luis Potosi, and General Obregon reported, confirming the recent Constitutional victory at Acaponeta announced first by the United Press, when sixteen hundred federals and one million cartridges were captured.

PARKS CASE TO BE OFFICIALLY PROBED

Report of Possible Torture of U. S. Private by Mexicans Rouses Washington

WASHINGTON POST ARTIST IS SET FREE BY HUERTA

Vera Cruz Doubtful if Consul Silliman Has Yet Been Released at Saltillo

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Following reports last night from Gen. Funston that Private Parks, who recently strayed from Vera Cruz and was believed to have fallen into the hands of the Mexican troops, was tortured as well as executed, caused an official order for close investigation today. Secretary of War Garrison instructed Gen. Funston to secure all possible positive information. Secretary Bryan has asked the Brazilian minister at Mexico City to attempt to get the same order from Huerta. Should the report of torture be confirmed, Secretary Garrison intimated that harsh measures will follow. He said: "If decent methods fail we will take our next step. If Parks was tortured it was an act of barbarism whether or not the Mexicans believed themselves at war with us."

VERA CRUZ, May 13.—The Brazilian minister at Mexico City telegraphed American Consul Canada today that Consul John Silliman at Saltillo had been released from prison where he was thrown after the American occupation of Vera Cruz, and would be taken to Mexico City, thence to return to Mexico, where he will be delivered to the Americans. COLORADO MINES MUST REMAIN CLOSED

Those Closed by Strike Must Wait Strike Settlement, Says Secretary Garrison

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Secretary of War Garrison announced today that no mines in the Colorado strike district that had not already resumed work will be permitted to resume with strikebreakers.

Regular troops, he explained, were sent to Colorado to restore order, and to act in partisan manner in the strike. The troops arrived will be protected in their continuance, but those closed by the strike must remain closed until the strike is settled.

He feared the injection of strikebreakers would precipitate a conflict, which is just what the government desires to prevent. He confirmed reports that hidden arms still remain in the hands of both strikers and mine owners.

MOTOR UPSETS, PASADENANS INJURED

Accident Occurred on Highway North of the County Farm

VICTIMS BROUGHT TO SANTA ANA HOSPITAL

Mishap Due to Momentary Carelessness on Part of Driver

Three Pasadena people were injured when the automobile in which they were driving was overturned on the state highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim, about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The injured are: Mrs. Julia E. Burnell, No. 121 North Sierra Bonita avenue, Pasadena, concussion of the brain; Mrs. J. C. Laurence, No. 437 Euclid avenue, Pasadena, fracture and dislocated elbow; Capt. Robert Kerr, No. 121 North Sierra Bonita avenue, Pasadena, concussion of the brain.

The party was on its way to San Diego for an outing and at a point about a mile north of the county farm the car was overturned, and the three were pinned under the machine, which was badly damaged. Frank Harris and G. B. Farnell, of Santa Ana, who came along within a few moments, brought the injured to the Santa Ana Hospital, where it was found that Mrs. Burnell was the most seriously injured.

Inquiry at the hospital today brought out the fact that the injured were getting along nicely. J. C. Laurence, who escaped practically unhurt, was driving the automobile when the accident occurred. Mr. Laurence admitted that the mishap was due to a momentary carelessness on his part. He was driving along at a fair rate of speed when he turned to talk to the occupants of the rear seat. He turned the steering wheel a trifle too far to the right, causing the machine to run off the pavement. In endeavoring to bring the car back upon the road he turned the steering wheel too sharply, causing the machine to turn over.

One of the peculiar things about the accident was that Mrs. Laurence, who was riding in the front seat with her husband, was taking her first outing since recovering from injuries received in the Long Beach disaster last summer.

UNION PAINTERS RETURN TO WORK-- WAIT ARBITRATION

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The striking union painters returned to work this morning at the old rate of $4.50 per day, pending arbitration arranged for last night to avert a lockout by the employers association of 15,000 unionists connected with the building trades. The painters agreed to work at the old figure pending the result of arbitration of their demand for $5.00.

James H. Barry, editor of a union periodical, and Louis Saroni were named today to arbitrate the dispute between the striking painters and their employers, which threatened last night to precipitate a general lockout in the building trades. If they are unable to agree they will name a third arbitrator to settle the differences. Both painters and employers have agreed to abide by the decision.

SENATOR OWEN GIVES ANSWER TO "DIRECT ACTION" ADVOCATES

Believed to Represent Wilson's Attitude In Mexican Affairs---Voiced Disinterested Motives

WASHINGTON, May 13.—What was regarded as the administration's answer to advocates of "direct action" in Mexico was delivered in the Senate today by Senator Owen of Oklahoma. He outlined the program on which the administration was proceeding as embracing, first, the elimination of Huerta, the restoration of constitutional government in Mexico with the pledge that the United States will not retain a foot of Mexican territory.

Owen bitterly denounced Dictator Huerta and defended the occupation of Vera Cruz. He said: "During the fall of 1913 numerous instances appeared of Huerta trying to involve the United States in some act of aggression or invasion. He was accused of this by Senator Donnell on the floor of the Mexican Senate, and by the revolutionary leaders. His purpose in doing this was to stir the patriotism of the Mexican people, make them forget, and induce them to get behind him as a defender of Mexico against an invading foe. Finally, on April 9, he had the impudence to arrest sailors in our uniform, under the shelter of our flag, at Tampico, and march them in derision through the streets. "Huerta desired to provoke some action that would unite behind him the revolutionary leaders in Mexico,

COURT MARTIAL CHICAGO GIVES HONOR TO HER DEAD SON

29 Officers and Men Involved in Trial for Actions in Coal Strike in Colorado

DENVER, May 13.—At today's session of court martial at the rifle range near Golden, Judge Advocate Edward Smith read the specifications against Major P. J. Hamrock, commanding the state militia during the coal strike. Hamrock pleaded not guilty. The first specification included two charges of arson in connection with the burning of tents at Ludlow; the second, two charges of murder in connection with the death of six strikers; the third, three charges of manslaughter in connection with the deaths of two women and eleven children at Ludlow. It was alleged that Major Hamrock ordered the firing of the strikers' tents in Ludlow colony. After Hamrock's case has been concluded, Lieutenant Linderfeldt will be tried. The ordinary court martial rules were waived today and the public was admitted. The specifications involved twenty-nine officers and enlisted men. Lieutenant Ray Benedict, the first witness testified that the strikers started the battle, saying in part: "At 7:30 at night we saw fire break out of one of the tents. I turned to the men with me and cursed the man who set fire to that tent. It was not so much for the firing of the tent I cursed as because the light from the fire would reveal the position of our men."

Eight women and girls were severely trampled on in the city hall where the crowd was viewing the casket of Marine Samuel Meisenberg, killed at Vera Cruz, when a panic followed an explosion of a flash light charge, prepared by a photographer. The detonation was deafening and hundreds of people rushed for the exits. All the injured will recover.

OFFICER AND MEXICAN BATTLE

Deputy Sheriff Boynton Surprised and Hit in Face With Handcuff

ARRIVAL OF HELP PREVENTED SHOOTING

Catarino Nicasio Resisted Arrest Near Orange About 9 This Morning

As Deputy Sheriff E. W. Boynton was handcuffing a Mexican this morning, the Mexican pounced upon him, struck him in the face with a cuff and was making a desperate fight for possession of Boynton's revolver when help arrived. Had Boynton been unassisted he undoubtedly would have had to shoot the man.

The Mexican is Catarino Nicasio, who on Monday night stabbed Juan Arellano in a row at the Santa Fe section house, and attempts to catch him failed. This morning about 8:30 o'clock Deputy Sheriff Boynton learned that Catarino had been seen near Orange and that he was on his way toward Santa Ana.

Boynton drove along the Santa Fe tracks from Santa Ana to the Santiago creek near Orange. He left his automobile on the south side of the creek and walked across to the north side of the bridge. There he met two Mexicans, one of whom he recognized as Catarino. The officer placed Catarino under arrest, but Catarino held off as though unwilling to go. Boynton took out his handcuffs and had one cuff locked on Catarino's right arm when Catarino made a sudden attack upon the deputy.

Catarino leaped forward, seized Boynton and tried to throw him backward, shoving one foot back of Boynton in an attempt to trip him. Boynton had not an instant to strike. He grappled with his assailant, and by a powerful heave threw him backward across a rail of the tracks. As the two were falling, Catarino struck at Boynton's head, and the edge of the steel cuff hit the officer on the cheekbone under the left eye.

Boynton had the man by the throat with one hand and held the handcuffed arm with the other. That left Catarino's left hand free, and he thrust it toward Boynton's revolver and tried to jerk the weapon from the seaboard. Boynton by a quick move prevented the man from carrying out his design, and in another instant the officer would have jumped from off Catarino, who was kicking, striking and trying to bite, and would have used his revolver. At that instant Fickas, Santa Fe section foreman, who was at work at the crossing of the P. E. and Santa Fe, and a man who was riding a track velocipede rushed up and grabbed Catarino.

The Mexican struggled against the three men for two or three minutes before the handcuffs were made secure. Catarino's companion took no part in the struggle. He probably would have done so had Boynton had the mix-up at some point where there was no help near.

The blow received by Boynton barely broke the skin, but it was hard enough to almost stun him, and the eye was quickly swollen almost shut.

There's Art in Designing Men's Clothing

The proper designing of clothes for men is an art which we have brought to near perfection. It is necessary to please both young and old. Fastidious dressers won't buy what doesn't attract and satisfy; but it is also necessary to maintain the high standards of style and quality which we have set for all our undertakings—to make clothes that look young without looking frivolous; that have the lively snappy lines which men and women insist on, without being undignified.

POMONA'S SEWER FARM PAYING ONE MARTIN IS BUILDING AN ARMY AEROPLANE

Raises Hay for Use of City's Horses—Walnuts, Hogs and Corn Aid City Revenues

POMONA, May 13.—That the Pomona sewer farm is this year to net the city of Pomona some of the largest returns in its history is the statement made recently by Street Commissioner Ed Baker. He predicts that the crop of barley and oat hay harvested this year on the farm will be more than enough to feed all of the city horses used to work on the streets. There are sixty-five acres of land sown to oats. Thirty-five acres of this is on the land owned by the city; the other thirty is on land that is rented. Besides the sixty-five acres of oats there are thirty-five acres of barley.

A part of this hay has already been cut and has indicated that the yield of hay will be one of the largest ever harvested. Mr. Baker predicts that more than 150 tons will be taken from the 100 acres.

One thirty-acre tract of hay will be plowed up and planted to corn as soon as the hay is removed, which will be within a short time. It has been found that corn grows very well on this land, and that by rotating the crops in this manner two large crops can be harvested in one year.

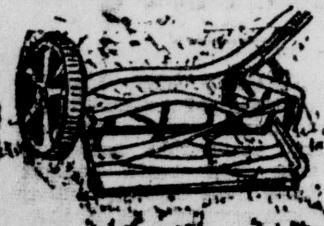

Besides the hay, corn and walnuts, the large shipments of hogs from the farm each year add a large amount to the yearly returns to the city. At the present time there are about fifty hogs on the farm. Some of these will be marketed in a short time.

BOOK REVIEWERS HEARD OF DR. MITCHELL

Eminent Surgeon and Writer
Sketched Interestingly by
Dr. Brink

The Book Review Section of the Eben Club met last evening at the home of Mrs. Walter B. Tedford to hear a paper given by Dr. Brink upon the life and works of the late Dr. S. Weir Mitchell.

The reviewer said that this eminent Philadelphia physician was at an early age a poet, and contemplated literature as a profession. He, however, consulted Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes of Boston and the latter advised him to make the medical profession his chief aim and bend all his energies in that direction and to do literary work only as a pastime and side issue. He religiously followed this advice and in 1862 became an army surgeon, specializing on nervous diseases among the soldiers, and this specialty was what determined his life work. After the war he became a distinguished authority on nervous troubles and developed in Philadelphia a rest cure in which patients could have the most soothing and restfully suggestive surroundings. He had a great personal influence over his patients and it is said that he once held an insane person for three mortal hours engaged in hunting cockroaches with silver forks under the bed and elsewhere, until relieved from the exhausting strain. Dr. Mitchell was against vivisection as practiced by some of his profession and the reviewer in order to demonstrate some of the unnecessary cruelty of science toward animals and occasionally human beings, read extracts from a work by Colmore entitled, "Priests of Progress."

The works of Dr. Mitchell are varied and consist of Hugh Wynne, his most popular novel, a tale of the American Revolution, Valley Forge and the capture of Andre; Francis the Jester, a story of the French Revolution; Dr. North and His Friends, in the nature of essays; Constance Trescott, a psychological study of considerable merit written when he was seventy-five years of age; and lastly, Westways, only just published, dealing with conditions at the time of the Civil War.

The reviewer read extracts from "The Red City," a romance dealing with the love which sprang up between a young aristocratic French refugee and a sweet, demure Quaker maiden. The scene is Philadelphia during the second term of Washington's administration and the descriptions of life and surroundings at that time are most admirable.

It has been said that in Boston they ask of a stranger, "What does he know?" In New York they ask, "What is he worth?" and in Philadelphia they ask, "Who was his grandfather?" Dr. Mitchell was an aristocrat, and even as Dr. Holmes of Boston preserved all the Brahmin traditions there, so he loved high birth and all the old Philadelphia traditions. His custom of looking always on the bright side of things and his habit of pedestrianism doubtless contributed to the attainment of good old age, he having died at the advanced age of eighty-four.

Election of officers for the coming year resulted in the re-election of the former officers, viz: Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, president; A. J. Perkins, secretary; E. M. Nealley, Miss J. McFadden and Mrs. Hull as book committee. The president spoke of the desirability of having someone to preside when necessary in her place, and accordingly Mrs. L. P. Hickox was elected vice president.

At the June meeting (the last of the year) J. P. Baumgartner will review the "Autobiography of Theodore Roosevelt."

VIENNA A RIVAL OF PARIS

VIENNA, May 13.—That the designing of women's gowns and the furthering and promoting of styles and modes which is making Vienna a rival to Paris, is worthy of high honor and state recognition, was in effect the decision of Emperor Franz Joseph, by decorating Frau Marie Gelber, with the golden cross of the "Order of Merit." Frau Gelber is chief editor of the magazine "Vienna Modes." The decoration was conferred upon her in recognition of her indefatigable work to create "Vienna art" in beautiful gowns and dresses which has made the Viennese women quite independent of Paris.

Smokeless Frying!

Frying with Crisco means a sweet, smokeless kitchen. For Crisco does not smoke at frying temperature. The potatoes and doughnuts, etc., become almost instantly a crisp brown. There is no "lardy" taste.

Crisco costs about the same per net pound as the best lard.

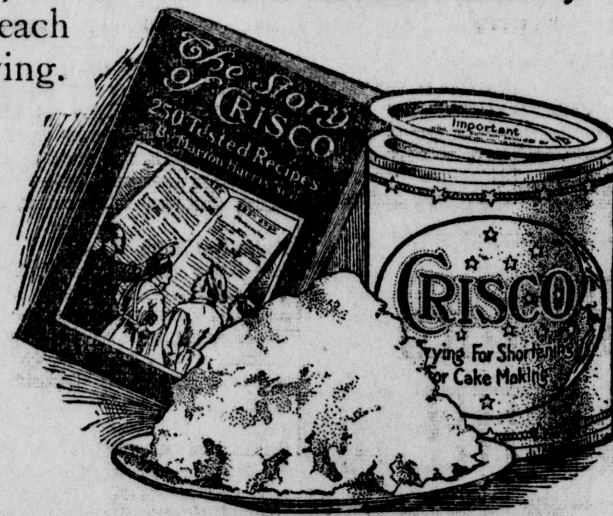

There is no loss through rancidity, as Crisco stays fresh and pure indefinitely in ordinary kitchen temperature.

Foods fried in Crisco absorb less, because they fry so fast and brown so readily.

The same Crisco may be used for all frying. You can fry fish, onions, doughnuts, etc., all in the same Crisco. Merely strain out food particles after each frying. This is a further saving.

There's Art in Designing Men's Clothing

The proper designing of clothes for men is an art which we have brought to near perfection. It is necessary to please both young and old. Fastidious dressers won't buy what doesn't attract and satisfy; but it is also necessary to maintain the high standards of style and quality which we have set for all our undertakings—to make clothes that look young without looking frivolous; that have the lively snappy lines which men and women insist on, without being undignified.

MEN'S SUITS MADE TO YOUR MEASURE $25 up

POMONA'S SEWER FARM PAYING ONE

Raises Hay for Use of City's Horses—Walnuts, Hogs and Corn Aid City Revenues

POMONA, May 13.—That the Pomona sewer farm is this year to net the city of Pomona some of the largest returns in its history is the statement made recently by Street Commissioner Ed Baker. He predicts that the crop of barley and oat hay harvested this year on the farm will be more than enough to feed all of the city horses used to work on the streets. There are sixty-five acres of land sown to oats. Thirty-five acres of this is on the land owned by the city; the other thirty is on land that is rented. Besides the sixty-five acres of oats there are thirty-five acres of barley. A part of this hay has already been cut and has indicated that the yield of hay will be one of the largest ever harvested. Mr. Baker predicts that more than 150 tons will be taken from the 100 acres. One thirty-acre tract of hay will be plowed up and planted to corn as soon as the hay is removed, which will be within a short time. It has been found that corn grows very well on this land, and that by rotating the crops in this manner two large crops can be harvested in one year. Besides the hay, corn and walnuts, the large shipments of hogs from the farm each year add a large amount to the yearly returns to the city. At the present time there are about fifty hogs on the farm. Some of these will be marketed in a short time.

MARTIN IS BUILDING AN ARMY AEROPLANE

Los Angeles Tribune: Acting under instructions from the War Department at Washington, Lieutenant Hollis Muller, attached to the First Aero squad, U. S. A., stationed at San Diego, arrived in Los Angeles last night to inspect the finishing of a new type man o' war which is being constructed at the factory of Aviator Glenn Martin. The assembling of the final parts, consisting of the bomb dropping devices and instrument boards, will be completed this week and the new craft will be turned over to Lieutenant Muller, who will fly from here to San Diego, taking with him Aviator Martin as a passenger. At the United States aviation field at San Diego the Martin Tractor—as the flying machine is known—will be tried out in the event of it being a success and meeting with the approval of the officers of the aero corps. Martin will construct an entire fleet for the United States. Craft Carries Two Persons According to Glenn Martin, the Tractor is the best available flying craft for warfare. It is constructed so as to carry two persons—a pilot and an observer. There are two sets of controls, this making it possible to keep the aeroplane aloft should one or the other controls become disabled.

Equipped with a 100-horsepower motor, the fighting craft is one of the speediest machines in existence and is of the same type which was constructed by Martin and holds the American record for altitude, with and without a passenger. The craft is constructed along the same lines as the four-passenger machine which Martin exhibited at San Diego about a month ago for the benefit of the army officers, and at that time he established a speed of 5800 feet a minute in an altitude of 3500 feet. He also carried a passenger and 200 pounds dead weight. Martin Employs Eighteen Experts So impressed were the officers at the demonstration that they immediately notified the authorities at Washington and then negotiated with Martin to construct a man-o-war for two passengers, along the same lines as the four-passenger machine. Eighteen of the most competent aeroplane builders in the country are at work in the Martin establishment on Los Angeles street, and they are building more aeroplanes of the type which will be taken to San Diego by Lieutenant Muller. Should the order be given for an entire fleet, Aviator Martin will at once increase his force of builders and rush the order through.

EXPRESS AGENT'S HAT HAS LONG JOURNEY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—A derby hat, formerly owned by the agent of the Adams Express Company at Jersey City, has been started from here after completing a "dead-head" trip to many of the nation's most important cities. The journey began at Jersey City when it was adorned with a prepaid tag, with the address in the blank space after "consignee" filled in thus: "Send me anywhere, but I sure would like to see San Francisco before I get back to New Jersey." With this start the hat traveled to Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, Wilmington, New Haven, Hartford, Boston, New York, Providence, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Nine Mile Creek, Canada, Denver, Omaha, Salt Lake, Lincoln, Butte, Portland, Tacoma, Sacramento and finally San Francisco. The hat was started on another journey from here with the wish that it might be returned in 1915.

BOOK REVIEWERS HEARD OF DR. MITCHELL

Eminent Surgeon and Writer
Sketched Interestingly by
Dr. Brink

The Book Review Section of the Eben Club met last evening at the home of Mrs. Walter B. Tedford to hear a paper given by Dr. Brink upon the life and works of the late Dr. S. Weir Mitchell. The reviewer said that this eminent Philadelphia physician was at an early age a poet, and contemplated literature as a profession. He, however, consulted Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes of Boston and the latter advised him to make the medical profession his chief aim and bend all his energies in that direction and to do literary work only as a pastime and side issue. He religiously followed this advice and in 1862 became an army surgeon, specializing on nervous diseases among the soldiers, and this specialty was what determined his life work. After the war he became a distinguished authority on nervous troubles and developed in Philadelphia a rest cure in which patients could have the most soothing and restfully suggestive surroundings. He had a great personal influence over his patients and it is said that he once held an insane person for three mortal hours engaged in hunting cockroaches with silver forks under the bed and elsewhere, until relieved from the exhausting strain. Dr. Mitchell was against vivisection as practiced by some of his profession and the reviewer in order to demonstrate some of the unnecessary cruelty of science toward animals and occasionally human beings, read extracts from a work by Colmore entitled, "Priests of Progress."

The works of Dr. Mitchell are varied and consist of Hugh Wynne, his most popular novel, a tale of the American Revolution, Valley Forge and the capture of Andre; Francis the Jester, a story of the French Revolution; Dr. North and His Friends, in the nature of essays; Constance Prescott, a psychological study of considerable merit written when he was seventy-five years of age; and lastly, Westways, only just published, dealing with conditions at the time of the Civil War.

The reviewer read extracts from "The Red City," a romance dealing with the love which sprang up between a young aristocratic French refugee and a sweet, demure Quaker maiden. The scene is Philadelphia during the second term of Washington's administration and the descriptions of life and surroundings at that time are most admirable.

It has been said that in Boston they ask of a stranger, "What does he know?" In New York they ask, "What is he worth?" and in Philadelphia they ask, "Who was his grandfather?" Dr. Mitchell was an aristocrat, and even as Dr. Holmes of Boston preserved all the Brahmin traditions there, so he loved his birth and all the old Philadelphia traditions. His custom of looking always on the bright side of things and his habit of pedestrianism doubtless contributed to the attainment of good old age, he having died at the advanced age of eighty-four.

Election of officers for the coming year resulted in the re-election of the former officers, viz: Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, president; A. J. Perkins, secretary; E. M. Nealley, Miss J. McFadden and Mrs. Hull as book committee. The president spoke of the desirability of having someone to preside when necessary in her place, and accordingly Mrs. L. P. Hickox was elected vice president.

At the June meeting (the last of the year) J. P. Baumgartner will review the "Autobiography of Theodore Roosevelt."

VIENNA A RIVAL OF PARIS

VIENNA, May 13.—That the designing of women's gowns and the furthering and promoting of styles and modes which is making Vienna a rival to Paris, is worthy of high honor and state recognition, was in effect the decision of Emperor Franz Joseph, by decorating Frau Marie Gelber, with the golden cross of the "Order of Merit." Frau Gelber is chief editor of the magazine "Vienna Modes." The decoration was conferred upon her in recognition of her indefatigable work to create "Vienna art" in beautiful gowns and dresses which has made the Viennese women quite independent of Paris.

Smokeless Frying!

Frying with Crisco means a sweet, smokeless kitchen. For Crisco does not smoke at frying temperature. The potatoes and doughnuts, etc., become almost instantly a crisp brown. There is no "lardy" taste.

Crisco costs about the same per net pound as the best pail lard.

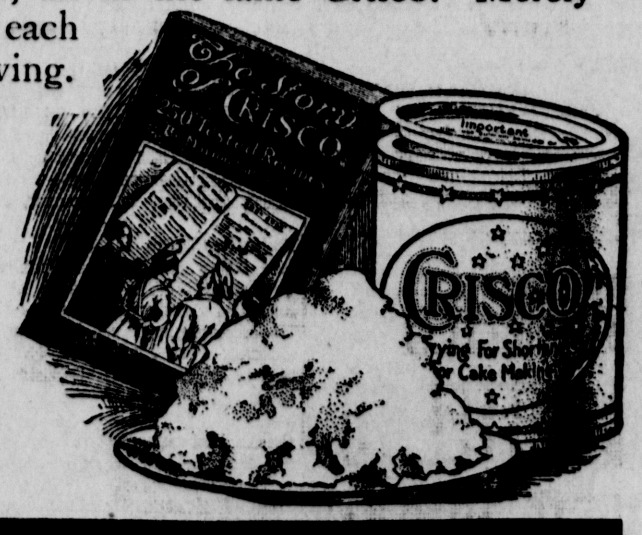

There is no loss through rancidity, as Crisco stays fresh and pure indefinitely in ordinary kitchen temperature.

Foods fried in Crisco absorb less, because they fry so fast and brown so readily.

The same Crisco may be used for all frying. You can fry fish, onions, doughnuts, etc., all in the same Crisco. Merely strain out food particles after each frying. This is a further saving.

PLAN TO OBSERVE BIRTH IN STATE OF ORANGE INDUSTRY

Riverside Would Celebrate
Fortieth Anniversary of Its Founding

RIVERSIDE, May 13.—Tentative arrangements for the celebration in Riverside of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Washington navel industry sets the date for the program about the middle of next April.

It also includes such features as an international congress of representatives of the orange industry, a banquet for a thousand delegates to the congress and orange growers, erection of a monument to the industry and a magnificent pageant to be participated in by twenty-five or thirty orange growing communities of the state, which will bring out in a dramatic way the struggles through which the Washington navel orange industry has gone on the way from its birth in Riverside to its present position.

Plans for the pageant, as outlined, will, it is declared, make a tremendous appeal to the people of Southern California. It is expected that the pageant feature will be enthusiastically supported by all orange growing communities of the state. It will be an authoritative passing in review of big movements in the development of the industry, following a picturesque prelude showing the life of the Indians, the early regime of the Spaniards and the coming of the pioneers across the desert.

J. O. ROYER, HEAD

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—The reserve corps of 1000 citizens who have volunteered their services to assist the regular police department in the maintenance of law and order in the city of Los Angeles is to be organized as “citizen police” at once, according to the announcement of Chief Sebastian before the Police Commission yesterday. The call for citizen volunteers was issued more than a year ago.

Chief Sebastian informed the commission that J. O. Royer, brigadier general of the Knights of Pythias, uniform rank, has been selected to command the “citizen police.” Chief Sebastian also informed the commission that Royer has offered to equip a rifle and drum corps for the regular police force. The commission accepted Royer's offer and gave him a vote of thanks.

BAY CITY TO LIMIT THE TENDERLOIN DISTRICT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The first preliminary step to driving San Francisco's tenderloin back within the limits of the restricted district, from which it escaped years ago, was taken yesterday by Police Chief White. He served notice on the so-called “uptown tenderloin” hotel proprietors and cafe owners that after two months every part of the city except the redlight quarter must be clear of immoral women.

Women may enter cafes, he said, but they must conduct themselves as proper patrons.

ROYAL SPENDTHRIFT SETTLES
BRUSSELS, May 13.—The last of Princess Louise's hordes of creditors, who together turned in claims to the Belgian government for approximately $4,000,000 debts incurred by the late King Leopold's daughter, has finally agreed to take his proportion of $1,000,000 offered by the government. All claims are to be settled on this basis later in May.

Princess Louise, who has been called the greatest spendthrift in Europe and renowned for the fact that she had more personal debts than any individual known, will have approximately $500,000 left out of her share of her royal father's estate. She hopes to get something like $2,000,000 more when Carlotta, the aged ex-Empress of Mexico, dies.

An Indicative
Feature

The patch pocket, which is a popular feature of fashion this season—is a small thing in itself but its position on the garment tells a vital story of makemanship. You see them—lots of them—that look like “plasters”—and if you carry your inspection further you’ll find equally glaring inconsistencies.

Just note the High Art Patch Pocket. It’s at the right angle; it has the correct shape. It’s an embellishment; not a blemish. Says just as plainly as words—“the tailor who made that garment knows his business.”

1,000 “CITIZEN
POLICE” FOR L.A.
J. O. ROYER, HEAD

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—The reserve corps of 1000 citizens who have volunteered their services to assist the regular police department in the maintenance of law and order in the city of Los Angeles is to be organized as “citizen police” at once, according to the announcement of Chief Sebastian before the Police Commission yesterday. The call for citizen volunteers was issued more than a year ago.

Chief Sebastian informed the commission that J. O. Royer, brigadier general of the Knights of Pythias, uniform rank, has been selected to command the “citizen police.” Chief Sebastian also informed the commission that Royer has offered to equip a five and drum corps for the regular police force. The commission accepted Royer’s offer and gave him a vote of thanks.

BAY CITY TO LIMIT THE TENDERLOIN DISTRICT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The first preliminary step to driving San Francisco’s tenderloin back within the limits of the restricted district, from which it escaped years ago, was taken yesterday by Police Chief White. He served notice on the so-called “uptown tenderloin” hotel proprietors and cafe owners that after two months every part of the city except the red light quarter must be clear of immoral women.

Women may enter cafes, he said, but they must conduct themselves as proper patrons.

ROYAL SPENDTHRIFT SETTLES
BRUSSELS, May 13.—The last of Princess Louise’s hordes of creditors, who together turned in claims to the Belgian government for approximately $4,000,000 debts incurred by the late King Leopold’s daughter, has finally agreed to take his proportion of $1,000,000 offered by the government. All claims are to be settled on this basis later in May.

Princess Louise, who has been called the greatest princess spendthrift in Europe and renowned for the fact that she had more personal debts than any individual known, will have approximately $500,000 left out of her share of her royal father’s estate. She hopes to get something like $2,000,000 more when Carlotta, the aged ex-empress of Mexico, dies.

Meeting at City Hall Tomorrow
Night for Drivers and Managers

A meeting will be held tomorrow night at the city hall at which will be present prospective entrants in the auto and motorcycle races to be held at the Santa Ana race track on Decoration Day, May 30. The promoters of the speed carnival will be present and qualifications, piston displacements, etc., will be discussed.

The speed duels will be held under the rulings of and will be sanctioned by the American Automobile Association and by the Federation of American Motorcyclists.

The auto races will be open exclusively to Orange county people. Both cars and drivers must come from this county.

In the motorcycle races it has been decided to allow entrants from any section to compete.

A great amount of interest has been aroused locally among racing enthusiasts and it is expected that at tomorrow night’s meeting, which is scheduled for 7:30, a large number of prospective drivers will be present. A good line of purses for both the auto and motorcycle events has been subscribed and it is thought that these will be inducements sufficient to bring out the best of the local speed talent.

For Sale or

I have 100 acres of land in the San Joaquin Valley, one and a quarter miles from a live little town with good schools, churches, water system, electric lights, and phone service. The land is a fine silt soil, very uniform, with no alkali or hard-pan spots. Is now in crop, part of it has a barley crop estimated at twenty sacks per acre, 15 acres alfalfa, 20 acres of fine sugar beets—can contract beets for five years. One share of water per acre. No better land in the valley for the price, $125 per acre, will divide into 40 or 60 acres. Will take clean, clear cottage property at fair value for part or all the purchase price. Courtesy to agents.

Drop me a line by mail arranging for interview. I am anxious to sell my home and will price it right. If interested come to 2220 North Main.

Also a great bargain in vacant Valencia or lemon land near Villa Park. Am anxious to do business on any of these properties as I expect to devote all my time to my San Luis Obispo county interests.

THE FIELD FOR EXPLORATION
It is commonly supposed that little unexplored area is left on the earth's surface, save in the polar regions, and that adventurous men like Theodore Roosevelt will soon find nothing left to discover. But when one looks up the unexplored regions of the earth, it is found that there is work still left for the explorers. Alaska has an unknown section as big as New England. There are unexplored regions in South America, Asia, and upper Canada as big as California or Texas.

The Sahara desert of Africa was formerly a great splotch of white on the maps. It was regarded as valueless. It was long argued as a feasible project, that water be let in to flood it. Further exploration showed the absurdity of this theory, by demonstrating that it has mountains a mile high, with much elevated table land.

In this supposedly valueless tract there are great oases, one of which alone contains 4,000,000 date palms. Considerable areas can be made productive by planting with coarse grasses and tenacious varieties of trees.

The world wide search for rubber is leading to further search in the South American wilds. Perhaps the Roosevelt party may have found it. Very likely a better knowledge of South America may yet reduce the high price of automobile tires.

It is a costly matter to fit out expeditions to explore these wilds. The results are uncertain, and the governments of the world are not much inclined toward it. The work depends on the scientific curiosity and love for adventure shown by such men as Mr. Roosevelt. There will be much interest to learn whether his expedition, which has just reached the sea-coast, has found resources of value to the world.

APPEARANCE OF STREETS

No matter how active street cleaning departments may be, the thoroughfares of a town never look decently unless some spirit of neatness exists in the minds of citizens. The tendency to litter up streets with paper bags, hand-bills, scraps of newspaper, etc., is a factor that every city has to contend with. Fortunately, Santa Ana suffers little from this tendency. The fire department authorities have frequently complained of carelessness of merchants in gathering of waste materials at the rear of stores, but with the City Trustees and street department co-operating, much of that trouble has been obviated. The streets as a whole are not strewn with papers to the extent that the disorder is particularly noticeable. Oftentimes the worst offender is the garbage man. He hauls waste paper away in an open wagon, and when there happens to be a brisk wind blowing more ugly trash is scattered than would be cast abroad by all the citizens of the city in a week.

Disorderly and littered streets give the impression that a place has no community spirit, and is too poor for street cleaning. The automobile traffic places every town on dress parade. A stream of strangers goes through daily in machines. They pass judgment on the place. If it is disorderly, they circulate the story that the town is slack and slovenly.

Santa Ana's civic bodies recognize these statements and facts, and that they are thoroughly alive to the value of street beautifying is indicated by the unanimity with which those organizations have entered into the plan for planting the parkings with geraniums and for the furtherance of a "clean-up" program.

Eradication of weeds, planting of trees and shrubs along streets and cleanliness of streets are all parts of the one general idea of civic attractiveness.

IF A MAN DIE, SHALL HE LIVE AGAIN?

WITH GREETINGS FROM THE EDITOR.

We Californians live in a beautiful country—and we love it well. But we should remember always that there is one glory of the sun, another glory of the moon and another glory of the stars.

A good many years ago, after having lived in Southern California for some ten years without ever seeing the beauties of springtime in the country east of the Rocky Mountains—and never having seen a northern springtime—I went to Buffalo, New York, and traveled all over the lake regions in late May and early June. If ever I forgot to love God and to thank Him for making the world beautiful it was not then or there. A young man who with me had been born in Fresno county, and had lived for some years at San Jacinto in Riverside county. "You can't conceive," said he, "of what this means to me. I never dreamed that anything could be so beautiful." The "this" to which he referred was the scenery around Detroit and Buffalo; up the Niagara river and down the Hudson.

Ernest Seaton-Thompson says, "where there is no winter there can be no spring."

And here in central Missouri, the bluegrass region, the country of the "woods-pasture," the fragrant red clover field, the waving wheat and whispering corn; where sleek cattle browse over the rolling meadows; where little colts and calves and pigs and lambs seem to spring from the ground overnight like wild flowers—this, too, is a very beautiful country at this season of the year. And when we think of it only a few weeks ago, locked in its winter sleep so much like death—surely here is the miracle of resurrection! "The flowers of the field rising from countless graves, the unfolding leaves of the forest heralding the approach of the summer, the orchard and the meadows, bursting into bloom, and myriads of winged minstrels filling the world with melody are all the evangelists of the Lord, demonstrating before our eyes the universal victory of life over death. Look how the rose hears the far away call of the sun and blushes in the presence of its God. Look how the violet comes forth from its tomb and opens its glad blue eyes to greet the spring. Are they not God's answer to the question, 'If a man die shall he live again?' If the germs of inanimate life buried beneath the sod, so surely respond to the silent command of summer, who can doubt that man shall spring up out of the unconscious dust to eternal life when God shall call? Can it be that the grass and the flowers are resurrected from the sod of earth, while man, for whom they were made, must sleep forever?"

The quotation is from a speech by the late Senator Bob Taylor, of Tennessee.

J. P. BAUMGARTNER.

JESUS OF NAZARETH

Description of Christ by Publius Lentulus, President of Judea in the reign of Tiberius Caesar.

There lives at this time in Judea, a man of singular virtue, whose name is Jesus Christ, whom the barbarians esteem as a prophet, but his followers love and adore him as the offspring of the immortal God. He calls back the dead from their graves, and heals all sorts of diseases with a word or touch. He is a tall man and well shaped; of an amiable and reverend aspect; his hair of a color that can hardly be matched falling into graceful curls, waving about and parted on the crown of the head, running as a stream to the front, after the fashion of the Nazarenes; his forehead high, large and imposing; his cheeks without spot or wrinkle, beautiful with a lovely red; his nose and mouth formed with exquisite symmetry; his beard thick, and of a color suitable to his hair, reaching below his chin, and parting in the middle like a fork; his eyes bright blue, clear and serene; look, innocent, dignified, manly, and mature, in proportion of body, most perfect and captivating; his hands and arms most delectable to behold. He rebukes with majesty, counsels with mildness, his whole address whether in word or deed, being eloquent and grave. No man has seen him laugh, yet his manners are exceedingly pleasant; but he has wept frequently in the presence of men. He is temperate, modest, and wise, a man, for his extraordinary beauty and divine perfections, surpassing the children of men in every sense.

The Savior is so seldom recognized in profane history that this confirmatory contribution to his perfections is especially valuable.

This description was found in an excavated city, on stone, in hieroglyphics, and was written by an uninterested party.

The Political Watchtower

The plain truth of it is that Roger Williams is going to run for superior judge.

As hitherto remarked in this column of political remarks, the decision as to whether or not R. Y. Williams would be a candidate would make a large amount of difference in the kind of battle waged for the positions that carry the ermine. R. Y.'s shape loomed up like a storm cloud on the horizon, and anxious ones were guessing as to the texture of the threatening disturbance, whether the cloud be fog or tempest.

It was no fog. As to tempest, the announcement of the Watchtower, herewith spiced, means that the fight for the two superior judgeships is going to be about the busiest and most interesting contest of the campaign. Any man who puts forth to sea during this judicial argument is going to get almighty busy if he keeps the water baled out of his boat.

There were already four candidates when the uncertainty concerning R. Y. Williams turned to certainty. Those four were and are Z. B. West, twice elected superior judge;

W. H. Thomas, once appointed; W. F. Heathman, whose campaign roar is like unto a lion's going into battle to win, and Lee A. Daniel, a man on horseback out to see the people. With Williams, there are five—and the fences are down so that any person taught and certified in the law may enter the pasture.

Four are to be nominated at the primaries in August—only four—and there are five running. It is too late now for some fellow to jump up and move that the secretary cast the ballot. Whose boat is going to be swamped on August 25? Of the four remaining, which two will land at the doors of the courthouse when the votes are counted in November? Tell me.

Throughout the campaign up to now, R. Y.'s position has been an enigma—whatever that is. There were just dozens of persons who knew it in their bones that R. Y. was not going to run. Is he not making more money as a lawyer than he could get as judge, whose salary is $4000 a year, State Senator Anderson and Assemblyman Weisel having failed to raise it to $5000? There were other dozens of people who were positive that Williams was going to run. Among those who felt that certainty were attorneys who understand the ambition that every good lawyer has to be on the bench. They believed that R. Y. would give up a lucrative law practice in order to round off his career in the way that lawyers like to have their careers rounded off.

For months those interested in judgeship affairs have wondered what Williams would do. They know now as they read this, Williams is now a candidate.

The Watchman has had his binoculars in use frequently the last four or five days over the possible, probable candidacy of an unnamed Santa Ana man for a courthouse job. Who is this unknown? The Watchman will give you all the guesses you want. First let us say that a number of newspapers over the county have been forecasting right along that W. B. Williams would be re-elected county clerk without opposition. A good many kind things have been said of Williams, and a lot of delvers into politics thought the clerk could prance up to the August primaries without a chase.

That was the condition of the public mind up to three or four days back. Then a rumor went out on the political trail, and at every well wooded spot the rumor gave forth some speedily accurate information.

It was declared that a well known man in Santa Ana was going to run against Bry Williams for county clerk. At least it was reported that he had the proposal under consideration.

That was something well worth the Watchman's investigation. He got out his spy-glass, took a look at the compass, whiffed the political atmosphere, and right down on South Main street, near Chestnut, the center of the under consideration process.

Oh, shucks! You have guessed his name already. P. L. Topple.

Hold on, now—wait a minute! Why not ask P. L. T. about it? That is just what the Towerman did, and the whole thing went up in smoke, for P. L. T. right off the bat said there was nothing to it. True, he had been urged, but urging a man to run and convincing him that he is going to run seem to be two different matters.

Everybody who knows Prince L. Topple knows that he is a mighty capable man, well known, well liked, well informed; he is all that, but he is not going to run for county clerk.

Political Statements

C. D. LESTER

Cal D. Lester of Santa Ana, present county auditor, is a candidate for re-election to the office he now holds. It is asserted for Lester that his work as auditor has been commended by grand juries, and never yet criticised adversely, and that his record has been such that it would be a mistake to fail to keep him where he is, since he is familiar with the work of the office and is an expert along that line of work. Before becoming county auditor, Lester was county clerk for four years, and is thoroughly familiar with the workings of the county government in all its phases. He has begun his campaign, and is well pleased with the encouragement and outlook as he has found it over the county.

C. E. JACKSON

Among those making the most vigorous campaigns is C. E. Jackson, now constable of Santa Ana township, and now seeking election as sheriff of Orange county. Jackson came to this county twenty-six years ago, and in that time has made hosts of friends who are gladly helping him. For the last eight years he has served as constable, and his friends declare that his record as an officer indicates plainly to them that he will make a first-class sheriff. He is fearless in doing his duty, obliging, fair and square, straightforward and efficient and honest, and as a man and as an officer is to be trusted. These qualifications are urged by Jackson's friends throughout the county.

J. B. COX

On the theory that one good term deserves another, J. B. Cox is seeking re-election as justice of Santa Ana township. It is his pride that no power of politics, friendship or position persuade him for one instant to deviate from the path of duty as a court. It is his pride that it makes no odds to him who the prisoner is, that prisoner gets what is coming to him, according to the law and the facts in the case. Those who have followed Justice Cox's rulings and trials declare that his knowledge of the law is excellent; his judgment, fair and honorable; his intentions, to do the right thing by all concerned, and that he uses at all times that greatest of judicial helpers, good common sense.

The Watchtower has a wireless rumor to the effect that J. W. Duckworth, recently postmaster at Anaheim, might be a candidate for county treasurer. There have been several other candidates talked of as likely to run against J. C. Joplin, who

It is commonly supposed that little unexplored area is left on the earth's surface, save in the polar regions, and that adventurous men like Theodore Roosevelt will soon find nothing left to discover. But when one looks up the unexplored regions of the earth, it is found that there is work still left for the explorers. Alaska has an unknown section as big as New England. There are unexplored regions in South America, Asia, and upper Canada as big as California or Texas.

The Sahara desert of Africa was formerly a great spot of white on the maps. It was regarded as a valuable project, that water be let in to flood it. Further exploration showed the absurdity of this theory, by demonstrating that it has mountains a mile high, with much elevated table land.

In this supposedly valueless tract there are great oases, one of which alone contains 4,000,000 date palms. Considerable areas can be made productive by planting with coarse grasses and tenacious varieties of trees.

The world wide search for rubber is leading to further search in the South American wilds. Perhaps the Roosevelt party may have found it. Very likely a better knowledge of South America may yet reduce the high price of automobile tires.

It is a costly matter to fit out expeditions to explore these wilds. The results are uncertain, and the governments of the world are not much inclined toward it. The work depends on the scientific curiosity and love for adventure shown by such men as Mr. Roosevelt. There will be much interest to learn whether his expedition, which has just reached the sea-coast, has found resources of value to the world.

APPEARANCE OF STREETS

No matter how active street cleaning departments may be, the thoroughfares of a town never look decently unless some spirit of neatness exists in the minds of citizens. The tendency to litter up streets with paper bags, hand-bills, scraps of newspaper, etc., is a factor that every city has to contend with. Fortunately, Santa Ana suffers little from this tendency. The fire department authorities have frequently complained of carelessness of merchants in gathering of waste materials at the rear of stores, but with the City Trustees and street department co-operating, much of that trouble has been obviated. The streets as a whole are not strewn with papers to the extent that the disorder is particularly noticeable. Oftentimes the worst offender is the garbage man. He hauls waste paper away in an open wagon, and when there happens to be a brisk wind blowing more ugly trash is scattered than would be cast abroad by all the citizens of the city in a week.

Disorderly and littered streets give the impression that a place has no community spirit, and is too poor for street cleaning. The automobile traffic places every town on dress parade. A stream of strangers goes through daily in machines. They pass judgment on the place. If it is disorderly, they circulate the story that the town is slack and slovenly.

Santa Ana's civic bodies recognize these statements and facts, and that they are thoroughly alive to the value of street beautifying is indicated by the unanimity with which those organizations have entered into the plan for planting the parkings with geraniums and for the furtherance of a "clean-up" program.

Eradication of weeds, planting of trees and shrubs along streets and cleanliness of streets are all parts of the one general idea of civic attractiveness.

IF A MAN DIE, SHALL HE LIVE AGAIN?

WITH GREETINGS FROM THE EDITOR.

We Californians live in a beautiful country—and we love it well. But we should remember always that there is one glory of the sun, another glory of the moon and another glory of the stars.

A good many years ago, after having lived in Southern California for some ten years without ever seeing the beauties of springtime in the country east of the Rocky Mountains—and never having seen a northern springtime—I went to Buffalo, New York, and traveled all over the lake regions in late May and early June. If ever I forgot to love God and to thank Him for making the world beautiful it was not then or there. A young man who was with me had been born in Fresno county, and had lived for some years at San Jacinto in Riverside county. "You can't conceive," said he, "of what this means to me. I never dreamed that anything could be so beautiful." The "this" to which he referred was the scenery around Detroit and Buffalo; up the Niagara river and down the Hudson.

Ernest Seaton-Thompson says, "where there is no winter there can be no spring."

And here in central Missouri, the bluegrass region, the country of the "woods-pasture," the fragrant red clover field, the waving wheat and whispering corn; where sleek cattle browse over the rolling meadows; where little colts and calves and pigs and lambs seem to spring from the ground overnight like wild flowers—this, too, is a very beautiful country at this season of the year. And when we think of it only a few weeks ago, locked in its winter sleep so much like death—surely here is the miracle of resurrection! "The flowers of the field rising from countless graves, the unfolding leaves of the forest heralding the approach of the summer, the orchard and the meadows, bursting into bloom, and myriads of winged minstrels filling the world with melody are all the evangel of the Lord, demonstrating before our eyes the universal victory of life over death. Look how the rose hears the far away call of the sun and blushes in the presence of its God. Look how the violet comes forth from its tomb and opens its glad blue eyes to greet the spring. Are they not God's answer to the question, 'If a man die shall he live again?' If the germs of inanimate life buried beneath the sod, so surely respond to the silent command of summer, who can doubt that man shall spring up out of the unconscious dust to eternal life when God shall call? Can it be that the grass and the flowers are resurrected from the sod of earth, while man, for whom they were made, must sleep forever?"

The quotation is from a speech by the late Senator Bob Taylor, of Tennessee.

J. P. BAUMGARTNER.

AT THE JOHNSON HOME

Tustin Twelve Club Women Happily Entertained by Santa Ana Member

Using the blossoms of the beautiful bougainvillea in bouquets, Mrs. Charles Johnson adorned her home on the corner of Ross and Sixth street most charmingly yesterday afternoon for the meeting of the members of the Tustin Twelve. They were entertained by several musical numbers beautifully played by Mrs. Fred Chapman.

Later the ladies were invited to the dining room, where a well-appointed table, centered with a bouquet of the bougainvillea, was spread with a tempting repast. Mrs. Johnson was assisted by Mrs. Chapman in serving. The club members enjoying the afternoon were Mesdames Albert Fuller, Fred Poole, J. S. House, Geo. Pollard, Chas. O. Artz, Arthur Hoefer, E. J. Cranston, Fred Moorehead, Ellis Smith, J. C. Stearns of Tustin. Other guests were Mrs. Fred Chapman, Mrs. A. H. Govruegga, a sister of Mrs. Hoefer, here from Riverside; Mrs. Emma Chapman, Mrs. T. M. Miss Norman, one of Santa Ana's most talented young ladies, and who has never failed to please, will give several selections on her violin.

The young people's best friend, Mr. Garstang, has assured the society that he will do everything in his power to make the evening a most enjoyable one.

Anyone minus the lunch and the basket, is invited to be there anyhow, as the Unitarians always have plenty of well supplied baskets to share with others.

A Surprise Party

A surprise party was given Mr. James Ryan by the members of the Fraternal Brotherhood last night at his residence on West Fifth street. Mr. Ryan is retiring president of the Fraternal Brotherhood and about thirty members of the order joined in the surprise event which served in a double capacity of a house-warming and of showing their appreciation of his excellent work during his term of office.

Games were played and much enjoyment and laughter was had at the expense of some of those present. After the various amusements light refreshments were served.

The honor of the evening fell to Col. W. F. Heathman, who made a short talk telling why the members had visited Mr. Ryan and that they wished to show their appreciation by presenting him with a beautiful picture. Mr. Ryan on behalf of himself, his mother and sister, responded with a short talk and extended the visitors an invitation to come again whenever they could.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames L. F. Harvey, P. A. Trickey, Fred Marsile, C. H. Peng, Mrs. Nieve Sutton, Mrs. Julia McCarthy, Mrs. Harry Kornick, Misses Elizabeth Wilson, Lillian Small, Josephine Brothers, Albert Trickey, Mabel Harvey, Julia Ryan; Messrs. Theo. Reuter, Fred C. Wilson, Jas. H. Parker, W. F. Heathman, C. A. Nisson, Henry Belt, James Ryan, Bernard Caulfield, Clint Howland, J. M. Frye, Clarence Trickey, Francis Harvey, Master Laurence Kendrick.

For Miss Curtis

A delightful shower was given yesterday afternoon at the G. W. Decker home, 217 South Main, in honor of Miss Mildred Curtis, a bride-to-be. The parlor was transformed into the semblance of a flower garden by the use of a mass of ferns in the center of the room. Suspended from the chandelier was a wedding bell of Shasta daisies and from this were pink and white ribbons extending to the fernery beneath, each ribbon being attached to a gift concealed in the greenery. These were all secured by the fortunate young lady for whom they were intended, Miss Curtis.

The afternoon was passed merrily. Delightful musical numbers were rendered for the pleasure of the company by Miss Hattie Bassler. Dainty refreshments were served later.

The invited guests included Mesdames Ethel Burns, E. R. Curtis, Whitted, Martin, Beissel, Harrison, Bassler, R. Andre, Andre, McPhoe, Dinsmore, Sutton, Smith, Young, Carter, Gowen, Peters; Misses Mitchell, Bassler and Grant.

Ladies' Suits on sale, $7.50 to $15. Former prices were $15 to $30. You can save about ½ by buying your new suit at Gilberts.

SHOWER FOR MISS INWOOD

Delightful Surprise and Shower for Bride-to-Be at M. E. Parsonage

Miss Grace Inwood, soon to be married, was the recipient of a very cleverly carried out surprise last night, of which Mrs. C. E. Jones was hostess. After being away all day, Miss Inwood returned home in the evening only to find the house beautifully decorated with yellow nasturtiums all through the rooms of the lower floor, and filled with a party of merry matrons and maidens who had assembled to "shower" her with hosiery and handkerchiefs.

She hugely enjoyed the surprise and the lovely gifts which were skillfully concealed in various places on the lower floor of the spacious parsonage, but which she succeeded in finding without a single failure. Jolly contests were joined in, one of the most exciting of these being a fortune-telling contest which foretold that Miss Annis Snow was to be the next bride in the merry circle. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Clark, after the games.

Besides the honoree, Miss Inwood, and the hostess there were present Misses Daisy Williams, Cynthia Schaickamp, Annis and Gertrude Snow, Naomi Lilley, Blanche Irvine, Ruth Inwood, Virginia Johnston, Rosa Clausen, Carrie Wyman; Mesdames T. W. Neeley, W. D. Baker, Frank McElree.

Came Home With Broken Wrist

Mrs. Lovisa Leslie returned from her last week's visit to the G. A. R. encampment at San Diego, with a broken wrist. To be sure the wrist was all nicely set and put in good shape at the Agnew Hospital, San Diego, where she was hurried on last Friday evening after having been knocked down by the automobile of W. E. Provost.

Mrs. Leslie treats the affair lightly, but still was rather sorry to have the accident, coming just as it did on the close of the encampment. Her friends rejoice that she did not meet with more serious injury in the accident.

Double Birthday Event

Mrs. C. H. Meacham of North Main street was hostess yesterday at a charming double birthday celebration for her daughters, Mrs. Hal Bradford and Mrs. Fred Fuller. The affair taking place at the Van Ness home of the latter. There were pretty floral decorations, marguerites and ferns being used.

There were eighteen guests present and they joined in a shower of gifts for each one of the honorees, many valuable presents being given.

A two course collation was served by Mrs. Meacham following the showers.

Teacher Was Surprised

Miss Eva E. Johnston of 521 East Walnut street, teacher of the seventh grade in the Intermediate school was pleasantly surprised last evening by about twenty-five of her pupils. The evening was spent merrily and at its close the boys furnished ice cream and cake was furnished by the girls for refreshments.

AMUSEMENTS

The "Adventures of Kathlyn"

At Clume's, May 14 and 15, and Saturday matinee.

Set No. 6 shows Kathlyn and her party continuing their way to the coast, after repulsing Umballah and his men. On their way they come to the great walled city in the desert, where the interesting and comical incident of the sacred elephant occurs. This tiny pachyderm, with the white, glaring eye, is a whole host in himself, as he is the cause of great concern, plotting and fighting. He is stolen by brigands, and is recovered by Bruce, Colonel Hare and others of the party, much to the delight of the rajah in whose kingdom the walled city prospered.

The journey to the coast was then continued. Brigands, the very men from whom the sacred elephant had been recovered, surprised the travelers and made them prisoners. They discovered in Colonel Hare the white king of Allaha and placed his ransom at three bags of silver, and messengers were dispatched to that kingdom to collect the treasure. As the result Umballah and an armed force arrived at the brigands' camp and delivered the three bags to the chief for the person of Colonel Hare. "You may feed the other two," meaning Kathlyn and Bruce, "to the tigers," he said, as he rode away with his prisoner. Thus ended the sixth set.

The imposing backgrounds and scenes in these sets, like those in sets Nos. 2 and 3 formerly reviewed, have the true Oriental atmosphere. Many of the scenes were actually taken in India. The acting and photography are of high merit.

Take the children to see the picture. They will enjoy seeing the animals.

At the Lyric

"Loyalty," that masterpiece of five big reels, natural colors, which is the headline today at the Lyric Theatre, is certainly a magnificent production and from the many expressions of approval as made by those who were fortunate enough to attend the two matinees held this afternoon, we are quite sure both performances held to-night will be crowded as no time in the history of Santa Ana has a drama of this magnitude been presented to the lovers of the silent art.

Two high class comedies are also being shown which makes a two hour show.

The same program will also be offered Thursday, with two matinees and two shows at night, beginning at 1:30, 3:30, 6:45 and 8:45.

Miss Norman, one of Santa Ana's most talented young ladies, and who has never failed to please, will give several selections on her violin.

The young people's best friend, Mr. Garstang, has assured the society that he will do everything in his power to make the evening a most enjoyable one.

A Surprise Party

A surprise party was given Mr. James Ryan by the members of the Fraternal Brotherhood last night at his residence on West Fifth street.

Mr. Ryan is retiring president of the Fraternal Brotherhood and about thirty members of the order joined in the surprise event which served in a double capacity of a house-warming and of showing their appreciation of his excellent work during his term of office.

Games were played and much enjoyment and laughter was had at the expense of some of those present. After the various amusements light refreshments were served.

The honor of the evening fell to Col. W. F. Heathman, who made a short talk telling why the members had visited Mr. Ryan and that they wished to show their appreciation of his work.

Mr. Ryan on behalf of himself, his mother and sister, responded with a short talk and extended the visitors an invitation to come again whenever they could.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames L. F. Harvey, P. A. Trickey, Fred Marsile, C. H. Beng, Mrs. Neva Sutton, Mrs. Julia McCarthy, Mrs. Harry Kendrick; Misses Elizabeth Wilson, Lillian Small, Josephine Brothers, Alberta Trickey, Isabel Hevey, Julia Ryan, Messrs. Theo. Reuter, Fred C. For Miss Curtis

A delightful shower was given yesterday afternoon at the G. W. Decker home, 217 Santa Main, in honor of Miss Mildred Curtis, a bride-to-be. The parlor was transformed into the semblance of a flower garden by the use of a mass of ferns in the center of the room. Suspended from the chandelier was a wedding bell of Shasta daisies and from this were pink and white ribbons extending to the fernery beneath, each ribbon being attached to a gift concealed in the greenery. These were all secured by the fortunate young lady for whom they were intended, Miss Curtis.

The afternoon was passed merrily. Delightful musical numbers were rendered for the pleasure of the company by Miss Hattie Bassler. Dainty refreshments were served later.

The invited guests included Mesdames Ethel Burns, E. R. Curtis, Whitford, Martin, Beissel, Harrison, Bassler, R. Andre, Andre, M. Dinsmore, Sutton, Smith, Young, Carter, Gowen, Peters; Misses Mitchell, Bassler and Grant.

SHOWER FOR MISS INWOOD

Delightful Surprise and Shower for Bride-to-Be at M. E. Parsonage

Miss Grace Inwood, soon to be married, was the recipient of a very cleverly carried out surprise last night, of which Mrs. C. E. Jones was hostess. After being away all day, Miss Inwood returned home in the evening only to find the house beautifully decorated with yellow nasturtiums all through the rooms of the lower floor, and filled with a party of merry matrons and maidens who had assembled to "shower" her with hosiery and handkerchiefs.

She hugely enjoyed the surprise and the lovely gifts which were skillfully concealed in various places on the lower floor of the spacious parsonage, but which she succeeded in finding without a single failure. Jolly contests were joined in, one of the most exciting of these being a fortune-telling contest which foretold that Miss Annis Snow was to be the next bride in the merry circle. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Clark, after the games.

Besides the honoree, Miss Inwood, and the hostess there were present Misses Daisy Williams, Cynthia Schalekamp, Annis and Gertrude Snow, Naomi Lilley, Blanche Irvine, Ruth Inwood, Virginia Johnston, Rosa Clausen, Carrie Wyman; Mesdames T. W. Neeley, W. D. Baker, Frank McElree.

Came Home With Broken Wrist

Mrs. Lovisa Leslie returned from her last week's visit to the G. A. R. encampment at San Diego, with a broken wrist. To be sure the wrist was all nicely set and put in good shape at the Agnew Hospital, San Diego, where she was hurried on last Friday evening after having been knocked down by the automobile of W. E. Provost.

Mrs. Leslie treats the affair lightly, but still was rather sorry to have the accident, coming just as it did on the close of the encampment. Her friends rejoice that she did not meet with more serious injury in the accident.

Double Birthday Event

Mrs. C. H. Meacham of North Main street was hostess yesterday at a charming double birthday celebration for her daughters, Mrs. Hal Bradford and Mrs. Fred Fuller, the affair taking place at the Van Ness home of the latter. There were pretty floral decorations, marguerites and ferns being used.

There were eighteen guests present and they joined in a shower of gifts for each one of the honorees, many valuable presents being given. A two course collation was served by Mrs. Meacham following the showers.

Teacher Was Surprised

Miss Eva E. Johnston of 521 East Walnut street, teacher of the seventh grade in the Intermediate school was pleasantly surprised last evening by about twenty-five of her pupils. The evening was spent merrily and at its close the boys furnished ice cream and cake was furnished by the girls for refreshments.

AMUSEMENTS

The "Adventures of Kathlyn"
At Clune's, May 14 and 15, and Saturday matinee.

Set No. 6 shows Kathlyn and her party continuing their way to the coast, after repulsing Umballah and his men. On their way they come to the great walled city in the desert, where the interesting and comical incident of the sacred elephant occurs. This tiny pachyderm, with the white, glaring eye, is a whole host in himself, as he is the cause of great concern, plotting and fighting. He is stolen by brigands, and is recovered by Bruce, Colonel Hare and others of the party, much to the delight of the rajah, whose kingdom the walled city prospered.

The journey to the coast was then continued. Brigands, the very men from whom the sacred elephant had been recovered, surprised the travelers and made them prisoners. They discovered in Colonel Hare the white king of Allaha and placed his ransom at three bags of silver, and messengers were dispatched to that kingdom to collect the treasure. As the result Umballah and an armed force arrived at the brigands' camp and delivered the three bags to the chief for the person of Colonel Hare. "You may feed the other two," meaning Kathlyn and Bruce, "to the tigers," he said, as he rode away with his prisoner. Thus ended the sixth set.

The imposing backgrounds and scenes in these sets, like those in sets Nos. 2 and 3 formerly reviewed, have the true Oriental atmosphere. Many of the scenes were actually taken in India. The acting and photography are of high merit.

Take the children to see the picture. They will enjoy seeing the animals.

At the Lyric
"Loyalty," that masterpiece of five big reels, natural colors, which is the headline today at the Lyric Theatre, is certainly a magnificent production and from the many expressions of approval as made by those who were fortunate enough to attend the sixth set, matinee held this afternoon, we are quite sure both performances held tonight will be crowded as no time in the history of Santa Ana has a drama of this magnitude been presented to the lovers of the silent art.

Two high class comedies are also being shown which makes a two hour show.

The same program will also be offered Thursday, with two matinees and two shows at night, beginning at 1:30, 3:30, 6:45 and 8:45.

Tonight at Princess Theater

Dr. J. Arthur, travel talker and cave explorer, presents and lectures the eighth wonder of the world, "Pictures of the wonderful Mammoth." He takes NU NU NU NU NU NU Cave, Kentucky. Natural wonders that reveal to you beauties that are almost unearthly in their solemn grandeur. Great galleries leading to the huge cathedral-like chambers rising hundreds of feet to the roof, their crystal walls sending forth scintillations of light caused by the feeble rays of oil lamps that only marvelous pictures can describe.

Every teacher and pupil should see this picture. It is instructive to old and young. Special singing and band playing between reels, and the regular program of four reels of photo dramas included, making in all a big double show. No raise in prices to-night and Thursday. Special school children's matinee, 2 to 4 Thursday.

Mrs. LeValley wishes to announce that she has appointed Mrs. F. B. Wilhelm, 509 North Main St., to succeed her in selling the American Queen Corset.

WILL STAY IN MEXICO CITY

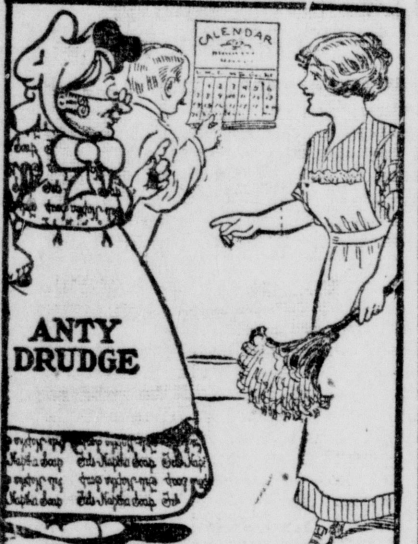

Louis Shrewsbury Writes That Mexicans Acting Very Decently

Louis Shrewsbury, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Shrewsbury of 403 West Washington avenue, is in Mexico City, and in a letter received by his mother today states that he expects to stay there until the trouble is over with.

The letter received today was written at Mexico City on April 26. Louis had been electrician at mines seventy miles from Mexico City. When news of the Vera Cruz affair reached the mines, Louis went to Mexico City.

He writes that the Mexicans at Mexico City, at the time of writing, were acting very decently, and that the writer did not expect the least bit of trouble unless things changed materially. He stated that he could not see that it is necessary for him to leave Mexico City, where he considered himself safe.

Mrs. Shrewsbury has felt confident all along that her son would get along all right, as he is thoroughly familiar with the country and people, and if it became necessary for him to flee she felt that his chances of getting to safety would be as good as anyone's.

Mrs. Youngwife—"I told George today that he was growing handsomer every day and he said, 'Yes, darling; it is a way I have just before your birthday. What do you want?'"

Anty Drudge—"I hope you told him a box of Fels-Naptha Soap. It would be the best birthday present he ever gave you and you'd never be without it, once you use it in cool water for your washing and all your hard work."

Fels-Naptha Soap is easy on you and easy on your clothes, because you do not have to hard-rub and boil them to pieces to get them clean. Just put them to soak with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, for about 30 minutes, and there will be nothing for you to do but give them a light rub or two, rinse and hang on the line.

Fels-Naptha does all kinds of work in half the time it used to take and saves your strength by working for you instead of making you do the hard part of the work.

Better have a box or carton on hand and follow the easy directions on the Red and Green Wrapper.

LOS ANGELES FIRE CHIEF ELEY LIES SERIOUSLY ILL

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Fire Chief A. J. Eley lies at the Fifth street fire station in a serious condition and fears for his recovery were yesterday expressed by friends.

Chief Eley, who has been in poor health for several months, suddenly collapsed a few days ago and has since been suffering from pleurisy. Dr. E. G. Goodrich, who has been attending him, reported yesterday that the fire chief was slightly improved.

Chief Eley was overcome by smoke in a Main street fire several months ago and a few weeks later showed that his health had been seriously affected by the experience. Recent experiences at fires have caused the chief to be subject to sudden attacks of lung inflammation and other illnesses.

FEDERAL JUDGES AGREE ON MEANING WHITE SLAVE LAW

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 13.—Judge Smith McPherson, in his instructions to the grand jury in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Iowa, took exceptions yesterday to magazine articles and editorial comments which he said purported to show that the federal judges of the country are not agreed as to the scope of the Mann white slave act.

"There is not a single judge in the United States who has not held that a man guilty of white slavery if he takes a woman across the state line for any immoral purposes whatsoever," said Judge McPherson. "The report that it must be proved that the woman was used for commercial purposes is erroneous."

CHARLTON ALIENISTS FILE THEIR REPORT

COMO, Italy, May 13.—Enrico Morrelli, professor of anthropology at the University of Naples, and Leonardo Branchi, a member of Parliament, and also professor of psychotherapy at the University of Naples, today filed their reports as alienists in the case of Porter Charlton, the American boy awaiting trial here for the murder of his wife. The two men, who are amongst the best known alienists in Italy, made their examination and report for the defense. A similar examination and report made on behalf of the state is declared to tally in all the more important findings.

According to these, young Charlton will have the advantage of several laws now on the Italian statute books which were made as a result of the studies of Lombroso, the famous Italian criminologist, as to the irresponsibility of a large portion of those who commit crimes. The date for the trial of young Charlton will be fixed as soon as the report is made by the special commission sent to the United States by Italy to secure testimony as to the exact mental, physical and sexual status of the murdered woman.

WILL STAY IN MEXICO CITY

Louis Shrewsbury Writes That Mexicans Acting Very Decently

Louis Shrewsbury, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Shrewsbury of 403 West Washington avenue, is in Mexico City, and in a letter received by his mother today states that he expects to stay there until the trouble is over with. The letter received today was written at Mexico City on April 26. Louis had been electrician at mines seventy miles from Mexico City. When news of the Vera Cruz affair reached the mines, Louis went to Mexico City. He writes that the Mexicans at Mexico City, at the time of writing, were acting very decently, and that the writer did not expect the least bit of trouble unless things changed materially. He stated that he would not go back to the mines until the difficulties are settled. He could not see that it is necessary for him to leave Mexico City, where he considered himself safe. Mrs. Shrewsbury has felt confident all along that her son would get along all right, as he is thoroughly familiar with the country and people, and if it became necessary for him to flee she felt that his chances of getting to safety would be as good as anyone's.

ANTY DRUDGE

Mrs. Youngwife—"I told George today that he was growing handsomer every day and he said, 'Yes, darling; it is a way I have just before your birthday. What do you want?'"

Anty Drudge—"I hope you told him a box of Fels-Naptha Soap. It would be the best birthday present he ever gave you and you'd never be without it, once you use it in cool water for your washing and all your hard work."

Fels-Naptha Soap is easy on you and easy on your clothes, because you do not have to hard-rub and boil them to pieces to get them clean. Just put them to soak with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, for about 30 minutes, and there will be nothing for you to do but give them a light rub or two, rinse and hang on the line.

Fels-Naptha does all kinds of work in half the time it used to take and saves your strength by working for you instead of making you do the hard part of the work.

Better have a box of Fels-Naptha Soap on hand and follow the easy directions on the Red and Green Wrapper.

LOS ANGELES FIRE CHIEF ELEY LIES SERIOUSLY ILL

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Fire Chief A. J. Eley lies at the Fifth street fire station in a serious condition and fears for his recovery were yesterday expressed by friends.

Chief Eley, who has been in poor health for several months, suddenly collapsed a few days ago and has since been suffering from pleurisy. Dr. E. G. Goodrich, who has been attending him, reported yesterday that the fire chief was slightly improved.

Chief Eley was overcome by smoke in a Main street fire several months ago and a few weeks later showed that his health had been seriously affected by the experience. Recent experiences at fires have caused the chief to be subject to sudden attacks of lung inflammation and other illnesses.

FEDERAL JUDGES AGREE ON MEANING WHITE SLAVE LAW

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 13.—Judge Smith McPherson, in his instructions to the grand jury in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Iowa, took exception yesterday to magazine articles and editorial comments which he said purported to show that the federal judges of the country are not agreed as to the scope of the Mann white slave act.

"There is not a single judge in the United States who has not held that a man is guilty of white slavery if he takes a woman across the state line for any immoral purposes whatsoever," said Judge McPherson. "The report that it must be proved that the woman was used for commercial purposes is erroneous."

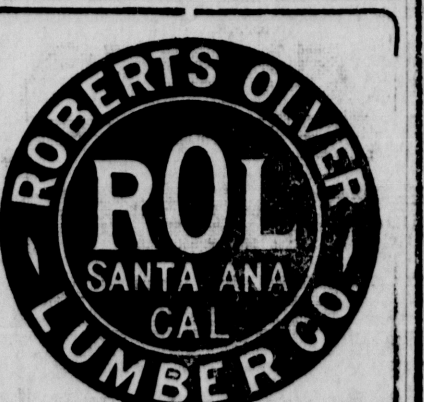

CHARLTON ALIENISTS FILE THEIR REPORT

COMO, Italy, May 13.—Enrico Morrelli, professor of anthropology at the University of Naples, and Leonardo Bruchini, a member of Parliament, and also professor of psychotherapy at the University of Naples, today filed their reports as alienists in the case of Porter Charlton, the American boy awaiting trial here for the murder of his wife. The two men, who are amongst the best known alienists in Italy, made their examination and report for the defense. A similar examination and report made on behalf of the state is declared to tally in all the more important findings.

According to these, young Charlton will have the advantage of several laws now in the Italian statute books which were made as a result of the studies of Lombroso, the famous Italian criminologist, as to the irresponsibility of a large portion of those who commit crimes. The date for the trial of young Charlton will be fixed as soon as the report is made by the special commission sent to the United States by Italy to secure testimony as to the exact mental, physical and sexual status of the murdered woman.

Child Cross? Feverish? Sick?
A cross, peevish, listless child, with coated tongue, pale, doesn't sleep; eats sometimes very little; breath fetid; pains in stomach, with diarrhea; grinds teeth while asleep, and starts up with terror—all suggest a worm killer—something that expels worms, and almost every child has them. Kickapoo Worm Killer is needed. Get a box today. Start at once. You won't have to coax, as Kickapoo Worm Killer is a candy confection. Expels the worms, the cause of your child's trouble. 25c. at your druggist.—Advertisement.

Los Angeles Produce Market
Chili peppers and a few boxes of bell peppers from the same place helped to reduce the quotations on these vegetables which have been very high during the past four months. In that time the entire supply has been coming from Florida and Orange county lays claim to the first commercial production of the season. The chili peppers brought 15 cents a pound while bells brought 2 cents more on the local stock. Florida stock sold a trifle higher. Egg plant from the southern state is holding steady. Cabbage is firm and selling near the dollar mark. New cauliflower is on the market and is bringing $1 per dozen. Tomatoes are holding very steady at $2.25 for the best. There has been no change in bunch goods. Lettuce is bringing as high as $1 on fancy packing stock. Outdoor cucumbers are worth about 90 cents a box. Beans and peas are still holding up well for good stock, both selling above 5 cents a pound which is unusual at this season. Only northern artichokes are obtainable and they are bringing better than 60 cents on good sizes.

Los Angeles Produce Market
Chili peppers and a few boxes of bell peppers from the same place helped to reduce the quotations on these vegetables which have been very high during the past four months. In that time the entire supply has been coming from Florida and Orange county lays claim to the first commercial production of the season. The chili peppers brought 15 cents a pound while bells brought 2 cents more on the local stock. Florida stock sold a trifle higher. Egg plant from the southern state is holding steady. Cabbage is firm and selling near the dollar mark. New crop cauliflower is on the market and is bringing $1 per dozen. Tomatoes holding very steady at $2.25 for the best. There has been no change in bunch goods. Lettuce is bringing as high as $1 on fancy packing stock. Outdoor cucumbers are worth about 90 cents a box. Beans and peas are still holding up well for good stock both selling above 5 cents a pound which is unusual at this season. Only northern artichokes are obtainable and they are bringing better than 60 cents on good sizes.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

TO ALL ALIKE

Any Motorist Convicted of Driving While Intoxicated Goes to Jail

Justice of the Peace Cox has made it a rule of his court that any person convicted before him of having driven a motor vehicle while the driver was intoxicated will have to go to jail for ten days.

"I believe in treating everybody alike," declared the justice this morning. "There is no royal blood recognized by this court, and any man who is convicted before me for that misdemeanor goes to jail, and that is all there is to it. I don't care who he may be. I regard the driving of an automobile or motorcycle by an intoxicated person to be a menace to life, limb and property, and this court is going to do everything it can to discourage any and every person from attempting to handle a motor vehicle while that person is intoxicated. I announce this as a general policy to be adhered to in all cases, so that any person who, while intoxicated, starts out in an automobile or on a motorcycle may know what to expect in this court. He can expect ten days in jail. He can expect it, because that is what he is going to get."

Disturbers There

Four of the five Mexicans arrested as a result of the cutting affrays at the Santa Fe section house Monday night were before Justice Cox this morning. Jesus Rodriguez pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace, and was fined $15. The other pleaded not guilty. One of them, Catarino Nicasio, who knifed Juan Arellano, is the man who attacked Deputy Sheriff Boynton. He will be charged with resisting an officer.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Advertisement.

Revolver Used Identified as One Used in Burlingame Train Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The statement of James S. Hogue, who held up the Southern Pacific Company's coast line limited just outside of this city Monday night, robbed passengers and was shot down by railroad detectives, that this was his first crime, committed because his wife was sick and his children hungry, has made little impression on the company's detectives. They believe that in Hogue they have a seasoned train robber, and on that theory they proceeded to collect witnesses of two previous hold-ups. Patrick Kindelon,

IN THE JUSTICE COURT
WILL HAND IT TO ALL ALIKE
Any Motorist Convicted of Driving While Intoxicated Goes to Jail

Justice of the Peace Cox has made it a rule of his court that any person convicted before him of having driven a motor vehicle while the driver was intoxicated will have to go to jail for ten days. "I believe in treating everybody alike," declared the justice this morning. "There is no royal blood recognized by this court, and any man who is convicted before me for that misdemeanor goes to jail, and that is all there is to it. I don't care who he may be. I register the driving of an automobile or motorcycle by an intoxicated person to be a menace to life, limb and property, and this court is going to do everything it can to discourage any and every person from attempting to handle a motor vehicle while that person is intoxicated. I announce this as a general policy to be adhered to in all cases, so that any person who, while intoxicated, starts out in an automobile or on a motorcycle may know what to expect in this court. He can expect ten days in jail. He can expect it, because that is what he is going to get."

Disturbers There
Four of the five Mexicans arrested as a result of the cutting affrays at the Santa Fe section house Monday night were before Justice Cox this morning. Jesus Rodriguez pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace, and was fined $15. The other pleaded not guilty. One of them, Catalino Nicasio, who knifed Juan Arellano, is the man who attacked Deputy Sheriff Boynton. He will be charged with resisting an officer.

Charges a Theft
Max Green, who has been peddling dry goods at Delhi, swore to a complaint charging Chon Argumedo with stealing $20 worth of silk. He states that he was at Martinez's house at Delhi, displaying his goods, when Chon got the silk.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY
Take Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system. When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Advertisement.

McReynolds, who has resisted heretofore, said the entire matter is under the commission's control under the senate resolution and he is content that the members shall pursue such a course as they think best.

HOGUE, S. P. HOLD-UP, MAY BE AN OLD HAND
Revolver Used Identified as One Used in Burlingame Train Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The statement of James S. Hogue, who held up the Southern Pacific Company's coast line limited just outside of this city Monday night, robbed passengers and was shot down by railroad detectives, that this was his first crime, committed because his wife was sick and his children hungry, has made little impression on the company's detectives. They believe that in Hogue they have a seasoned train robber, and on that theory they proceeded to collect witnesses of two previous hold-ups. Patrick Kindelon, the railroad's chief detective, said yesterday that Hogue fits in every detail the descriptions given of the robber who held up train No. 87 between San Mateo and Burlingame, February 24, last, and the robber of train No. 7, between Los Angeles and Tropic, in January. The revolver used Monday night by Hogue has been identified by M. Cairns, Southern Pacific brakeman, as the same weapon used by the robber who held up train No. 87 between Burlingame and San Francisco on February 24.
